Property Description

Introduction The Civil Aviation Authority of Thailand has implemented a new policy, effective from January 16, 2024, requiring all foreign nationals to present a valid passport or equivalent identification when boarding domestic flights in Thailand.
This move is part of tightened travel controls within the country, primarily aimed at addressing visa overstays amid a rebound in the tourism sector.
Details of the New Regulation Foreign travelers must now show their original passport, with the name matching their boarding pass, to board a domestic flight.
In cases of lost passports, the Authority is allowing the use of a temporary passport or a non-Thai identification card, like a driver's license, issued by the Thai government.
Implications for Tourism and Travel This policy change comes as
