Property Description

In April 2025, one of the most comprehensive surveys ever conducted among expatriate retirees in Thailand was released, providing rare insight into the lives, needs, and concerns of foreign residents aged 55+ in Hua Hin.
The study—led by Hua Hin Today, Be Well Medical Center, and researchers from Assumption University's Department of Global Business Management—offers a compelling snapshot of long-term expat satisfaction and the future of retirement in Thailand.
Who Was Surveyed? 512 foreign retirees and semi-retirees, each living in Hua Hin for at least 6 months annually and for a minimum of two years, participated.
Respondents came from 76 nationalities, with a heavy representation from Europe and North America—especially the UK, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Germany, France, Scandinavia, and the U.
